

Conditions of ETV Home Study

- No distribution or copying/re-recording of the CDs or audio files. If you need to download the files on the CDs onto your computer in order to listen, then all the files will need to be deleted after listening.
- No friends/others listening in.
- Always listen in an appropriately reverent environment - never in the car, never with other media playing or answering emails, etc. Give it your full attention. Exploring the Veda is a course of experiences, not merely information. We have to listen to it in an environment in which we can have those experiences without distractions.

Conditions of ETV Home Study

- No distribution or copying/re-recording of the CDs or audio files. If you need to download the files on the CDs onto your computer in order to listen, then all the files will need to be deleted after listening.
- No friends/others listening in.
- Always listen in an appropriately reverent environment - never in the car, never with other media playing or answering emails, etc. Give it your full attention. Exploring the Veda is a course of experiences, not merely information. We have to listen to it in an environment in which we can have those experiences without distractions.

Conditions of ETV Home Study

- No distribution or copying/re-recording of the CDs or audio files. If you need to download the files on the CDs onto your computer in order to listen, then all the files will need to be deleted after listening.
- No friends/others listening in.
- Always listen in an appropriately reverent environment - never in the car, never with other media playing or answering emails, etc. Give it your full attention. Exploring the Veda is a course of experiences, not merely information. We have to listen to it in an environment in which we can have those experiences without distractions.

Conditions of ETV Home Study

- No distribution or copying/re-recording of the CDs or audio files. If you need to download the files on the CDs onto your computer in order to listen, then all the files will need to be deleted after listening.
- No friends/others listening in.
- Always listen in an appropriately reverent environment - never in the car, never with other media playing or answering emails, etc. Give it your full attention. Exploring the Veda is a course of experiences, not merely information. We have to listen to it in an environment in which we can have those experiences without distractions.

Conditions of ETV Home Study

- No distribution or copying/re-recording of the CDs or audio files. If you need to download the files on the CDs onto your computer in order to listen, then all the files will need to be deleted after listening.
- No friends/others listening in.
- Always listen in an appropriately reverent environment - never in the car, never with other media playing or answering emails, etc. Give it your full attention. Exploring the Veda is a course of experiences, not merely information. We have to listen to it in an environment in which we can have those experiences without distractions.

Conditions of ETV Home Study

- No distribution or copying/re-recording of the CDs or audio files. If you need to download the files on the CDs onto your computer in order to listen, then all the files will need to be deleted after listening.
- No friends/others listening in.
- Always listen in an appropriately reverent environment - never in the car, never with other media playing or answering emails, etc. Give it your full attention. Exploring the Veda is a course of experiences, not merely information. We have to listen to it in an environment in which we can have those experiences without distractions.